Ashton School, B.F. Norton School & Garvin Memorial School are federally identified as Title I schools, and as such must meet federal rules related to teacher qualifications as defined in Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA).

Title I provides financial assistance to local educational agencies (LEAs) and schools with high numbers or high percentages of children from low-income families to help ensure that all children meet challenging state academic standards.

These rules allow you to learn more about your child's teacher's training and credentials. We are happy to provide this information to you.

At any time, you may ask:

- Whether the teacher met state qualifications and certification requirements for the grade level and subject he/she is teaching,
- Whether the teacher received an emergency or conditional certificate through which state qualifications were waived, and
- What undergraduate or graduate degrees the teacher holds, including graduate certificates and additional degrees, and major(s) or area(s) of concentration.

You may also ask whether your child receives help from a paraprofessional. If your child receives this assistance, we can provide you with information about the paraprofessional's qualifications. Our staff is committed to helping your child develop the academic knowledge and critical thinking he/she needs to succeed in school and beyond. That commitment includes making sure that all of our teachers, aides, and paraprofessionals are highly skilled.

If you have any questions about your child's assignment to a teacher or paraprofessional, please contact the Ashton School Principal at 333-0554; the Garvin School Principal at 333-2557; or the B.F. Norton School Principal at 722-7610.

Title I schools have Parent and Family Engagement policies to provide a framework for programs and activities to strengthen the connection between the school and our students' families. If you are interested in these policies, they are available in the school office. If you are looking for resources to use at home or information about parent involvement in Cumberland Public schools, you can find more information by contacting the principal. Each school has a website and you will find additional information about your child's school.

The Cumberland School Department does not discriminate on the basis of age, gender, gender expression, race, religion, national origin, color or disability in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.
